

Attendance Bingo

OBJECT OF THE GAME:

Complete the designated game pattern on your bingo card before any other player. If you do, you have a “bingo” and win a prize.

IN THIS KIT:

- + (1) Bingo Call Number Sheet
- + (36) Unique Bingo Cards

GAME RULES:

1. Everyone gets a unique bingo card (no two cards are the same).
2. Each day, a bingo number is randomly drawn and announced (or “called”) to the “players.”
3. If the player is present that day at work, he/she will get to play the number (they can mark it with a pen or bingo stamper).
4. If the employee has called in sick that day, they have to forfeit that day’s number.

SETUP:

1. Start by printing out enough bingo cards so that everyone who wants to play gets one. If you have more than 36 employees in your department, you may need to give duplicate cards to several employees.
2. Print out the Bingo Call Number Sheet. There are 75 numbers on the sheet. You can either cut them up and place them in a fish bowl or you can just randomly select a different number each day. The more random it is, the better.
3. Decide how you will “call” the bingo numbers. Will it be by email? Team huddle? Bulletin board? Be consistent with whatever method you decide to use.
4. Look at the alternate versions (below) and decide whether you want to try one of those ideas for your department.
5. Decide how you want to award prizes and what they will be. Prizes can be simple and inexpensive — whatever your team decides.
6. Make sure everyone is clear on all the rules.
7. Play it again next month!

ALTERNATE VERSIONS:

Variations for this game can include “double numbers” (two numbers announced) on Fridays and/or Mondays. Or, if an employee’s absence is pre-planned (e.g., vacation, doctor’s appointment, etc.), they still can receive their daily bingo number. Feel free to add your own variations! Just make sure everyone clearly knows the rules.

Complete the game pattern on your bingo card before any other player. If you do, you have a “bingo” and win a prize.

GAME RULES:

Everyone gets a unique bingo card (no two cards are the same). Each day, a bingo number is randomly drawn and announced to the “players.” If the player is present that day at work, he/she will get to play the number. If not, they forfeit that day’s number.

ALTERNATE VERSIONS:

Variations for this game can include “double numbers” (two numbers announced) on Fridays and/or Mondays. Or, if an employee’s absence is pre-planned (e.g., vacation, doctor’s appointment, etc.), they still can receive their daily bingo number. Feel free to add your own variations! Just make sure everyone clearly knows the rules.
